The CityLite Slipcase combines contemporary cool and top-of-class protection. The perfect laptop shoulder bag for stylish urban professionals.

Ergonomic background

Regardless of whether you use a backpack or a shoulder bag, health experts say that the maximum distance you should cover with a bag that weighs 4-6 kilos is just 90 metres (Mital et al., 1993). For longer distances, they recommend using a trolley to reduce the strain on the body and in particular your back.
