Safety Instructions:

- The tabletop may be heavy and could cause injury if handled incorrectly.
- The edges are softly rounded, but care should still be taken to avoid cuts.
- The surfaces of the table tops are suitable for cleaning with disinfectants, but compatibility should be checked first in a less visible area.
- Attention: Table legs and tubular steel feet must be ordered separately and securely attached. Missing components could impair the stability of the table top.
- There is a risk of suffocation due to small, removable parts such as edging.
- Ensure that the table top is mounted stably and securely.
- Avoid the use of harsh cleaning agents or abrasive materials that could damage the surface.
- Protect the surface from direct heat or naked flames to avoid burns or fire hazard.
