Safety Instructions:

- Avoid stacking more than 5 storage tubs to minimise the risk of injury from falling over.
- Ensure that the storage trays are placed on a stable and level surface.
- Only use the storage trays for the intended purpose of storing small parts and do not overload them.
- Make sure that the tubs are not too heavy to minimise the risk of injury when lifting.
- If dividers are used, ensure that they are properly installed to prevent the contents from slipping.
- Do not stack if the storage trays are not loaded to prevent them from tipping over.
- Improper handling can damage the welded construction of the steel sheet trays.
