Safety Instructions:

- Before use, ensure that the table is mounted stably on a level surface and that the table top is properly secured to prevent it from tipping over.
- Check the table top regularly for damage, wear and sharp edges to prevent safety risks.
- To adjust the height, the clamping screws must be set correctly and checked regularly to ensure they are secure to prevent accidents.
- Observe the maximum load capacity of the table to prevent structural damage. Different load capacity specifications (e.g. multiplex design) must be taken into account.
- Avoid excessive mechanical loads to ensure the stability of the table frame.
- Do not use the table for chemical activities or in damp environments, unless it is the multiplex version intended for this purpose.
- Make sure that the table is not placed near extreme temperatures or in direct sunlight to avoid material damage such as discolouration.
- Only use suitable, non-aggressive cleaning agents to clean the table top in order to protect the surface.
- Keep small parts, loose objects and accessories away from the edge of the table to minimise the risk of tripping or crushing.
- Children should not use the table unsupervised to avoid injury from sharp edges or tipping objects.
- For commercial use, additional safety requirements must be observed, such as chemical resistance and load limits.
- Provide clear installation and safety instructions in an understandable language to ensure correct use.
