

Product Safety Information

Multifunctional copy paper Plano® Superior

Manufacturer/Responsible Person: Inapa Deutschland GmbH, Osterbekstraße 90a, 22083 Hamburg, Deutschland

E-Mail: hemer@inapa.com

Please note the technical data of the products!

Article Numbers: 23969, 182652, 182651, 182650, 182649, 182648, 182645, 182644, 182643, 182642, 182641

Safety Instructions:

- Make sure that the paper is stored properly to avoid damage. It should be stored in a dry place to maintain quality and prevent mould growth. The product should be protected from moisture, extreme temperatures and direct sunlight.
- The paper is not suitable for contact with food and must not be put in the mouth or sucked. Swallowing paper can be dangerous.
- Keep away from children: The paper is not suitable for children, especially under 3 years old, to avoid choking hazard from small pieces of paper. It should not be used by young children to prevent misuse.
- In case of allergies or sensitivities to paper materials, consult a doctor before use.
- No special safety measures required as the product is classified as safe when used according to the intended specifications. It contains no hazardous chemical substances and is FSC and ECF certified, which supports sustainable forestry.
- Paper can tear or crumple: Improper handling can cause the paper to break. Avoid excessive pressure and improper handling.
- Avoid using the paper in applications involving high temperature or humidity to prevent damage or safety risks.
- Dispose of in accordance with local regulations for paper waste to minimise environmental impact and ensure environmental compatibility. Observe environmental and safety certificates, in particular ISO 14001.
- Keep the paper away from naked flames and other sources of heat. Avoid storing the paper near chemicals or other harmful substances.
- Provide safety information and instructions in understandable language. Product labelling with manufacturer information and contact options.
- For use with printers, provide appropriate instructions for safe use.