Safety Instructions:

- Ensure that all legal safety requirements for electrical testing are met. Use is subject to DGUV Regulation 3 on occupational safety.
- Not intended for use in damp or wet environments, avoid direct contact with water.
- Keep stickers out of reach of small children to minimise the risk of suffocation, not suitable for use by children.
- Keep temperature deviations to a minimum, as stickers could lose their properties at extreme temperatures ($< -20^{\circ}\text{C}$ or $> +80^{\circ}\text{C}$), but can be used at temperatures up to $+80^{\circ}\text{C}$ and -20°C .
- Use suitable foil pens for labelling to avoid damaging the sticker.
- Apply stickers to suitable surfaces to ensure effectiveness. Improper application may impair adhesion.
- The stickers are weather and tear resistant, do not use in extreme conditions that could cause damage.
- Do not use stickers as a substitute for comprehensive technical inspections and maintenance of electrical systems.
- Labels are not designed as safety labelling for hazardous materials.
