Safety Instructions:

- Batteries must not be exposed to fire or heat in order to avoid explosion or fire.
- The rechargeable batteries are not suitable for use in devices that are not designed for lithium-ion batteries.
- Take care when handling to avoid short circuits, e.g. through contact with metal objects.
- The batteries should only be charged with a suitable charger to avoid overcharging.
- Keep the batteries away from children to avoid the risk of choking on small parts. Supervision is required when used by children.
- Avoid contact with liquids to minimise the risk of decomposition or a short circuit. The batteries must be protected from water and moisture.
- Dispose of defective or damaged rechargeable batteries in accordance with the local regulations for waste disposal and the local regulations for batteries and rechargeable batteries.
- Caution: If damaged, batteries can leak or release hazardous chemical substances.
